I know a place in Africa
Where the trees dress the earth in a coat of green.
Where the lions roar and the springboks leap,
Where the sound of drums beat in my ears.

I know a place in Africa
Where elephants pound with their mighty feet.
Where I can hear the chirping of the birds in the trees.
Where a journey starts and never ends...
This is South Africa.

Where the lions roar and the springboks leap,
Where the sound of drums beat in my ears.*

*I know a place in Africa
Where elephants pound with their mighty feet.
Where I can hear the chirping of the birds in the trees.
Where a journey starts and never ends...
This is South Africa.*
